

Cell phone use should be allowed aboard airborne aircraft. There is no evidence that use of cell phones in flight poses any risk and use of the phones allow people to work while in flight.